Ralumac in the London Boroughs

London Borough of Barnet has trebled the size of last years’ program due to the success of Ralumac in the Borough, compared to surface dressing and alternative Microasphalt products from alternative providers. They have drastically reduced the amount of residential complaints and claims whilst using Ralumac.

Ralumac is renowned for its regulating quality’s which in turn reduces the need for extensive pre-patching.

“The program has gone really well with no public complaints. It has been carried out on schedule and with very few problems.”

Ben Sandford
Highways Inspector
London Borough of Barnet

The Need

The clients aim was to carry out preventative road surface treatments to areas of failing carriageways and to provide a durable economic surface treatment that seals the surface of the carriageways and prevents pot holes from occurring and increases surface texture.

Our Approach

By working closely with the client we carried out joint inspections to highlight pre-patching requirements and site preparation, and which items of iron work would need to be raised after the application.
